

Some things are meant to be picked early...

Avoid disappointment and register now for one of the global wine community's most anticipated discussion forums – the 8th International Cool Climate Symposium for Viticulture and Oenology.

Featuring thought-provoking abstracts and workshops presented by some of the world's leading authorities on cool climate wine, places at this not-to-be-missed event will disappear quickly.

Early registration allows you to:

- Guarantee a workshop seat – workshop places are strictly limited and will be filled on a 'first in, first served' basis
- Avoid peak season – get in early and access the most flexible travel and accommodation options for the peak summer travel period
- Enjoy discounted registration – register on or before 14 October and receive a discount on your registration fee.

Keynote speaker, world famous Jancis Robinson OBE MW, will open the symposium with 'What's hot about cool climate?' followed by a raft of presentations including 'The world scene for premium sparkling wines', Tom Stevenson(UK); 'Why cool climate? ...views from a producer at the coal face', Ross Brown (Brown Brothers); and 'The provenance of Pinot Noir', Dr Richard Smart, (Smart Viticulture).

Both tasting-based and presentation style workshops will be held, including 'Taming the Pinot Noir terroir' (tasting), 'Building vineyard biodiversity' and 'Bubbles from three continents' (tasting).

View the full program at www.winetasmania.com.au/iccs/program.

photo courtesy of Wine Tasmania

Don't miss your chance to join us in Hobart, Tasmania, Australia for the 8th International Cool Climate Symposium for Viticulture and Oenology

31 January to 4 February 2012.

To register, visit

www.winetasmania.com.au/iccs

Reminder: Places for poster displays are filling quickly - view additional information and submit your poster abstracts via the link above.